Mr. W. L. Edison, a son of Mr. Thomas A. Edison, has enlisted as a private in the First Regiment of United States Volunteer Engineers.

Mr. William Geist has been appointed Commissioner of Parks and Boulevards of Detroit, Mich., to succeed Mr. Carl Schweikert, resigned.

Mr. W. F. Robertson, mining engineer, of McGill University, Montreal, Que., has been appointed Provincial Mineralogist of British Columbia, to succeed Mr. W. A. Carlyle, resigned.

Mr. William Hargadine Thomson, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., who graduated last week from Cornell University as a mechanical engineer, has been appointed an engineer in the United States Navy.

Mr. John C. Moore, formerly with the Laidlaw-Dunn-Gordon Co., Cincinnati, O., has been appointed Chief Engineer of the water-works at Mansfield, O., to succeed Mr. Albert Coul, resigned.

Mr. Burton J. Ashley, hydraulic engineer of 1665 Old Colony Bldg., Chicago, Ill., will have his headquarters at Wellington, O., during the summer while superintending the construction of various plants in the latter state.

Mr. White was on duty at the dry dock in Brooklyn during the absence of Mr. Menocal and the inference is that he is partly responsible for the alleged defects. Mr. P. C. Asserson, M. Am. Soc. C. E., Civil Engineer, U. S. Navy, has been ordered from the navy yard, Norfolk, Va., to the Brooklyn yard, presumably to be placed in charge of the Engineering Department, which has been without a head since the removal of Mr. Menocal.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Purdy Green Sands, civil engineer, of Port Chester, N. Y., died June 14, aged 48.

Capt. Nelson Mackey, President of the Mackey Brick & Tile Co., of San Antonio, Tex., died June 8, aged 73.

Mr. Wolcott E. Newberry, mining engineer, of Colorado Springs, Colo., and son of the late Dr. John S. Newberry, Professor of Geology and Palaeontology of Columbia University, died in Newport, R. I., June 12, aged 36.

Mr. George Focht, proprietor of the George Focht Iron Works, Hoboken, N. J., died June 20. He was born in Eisenach, Germany, March 13, 1823, and came to this country in 1849, settling in Reading, Pa. He invented the Focht self-dumping coal bucket and established a plant in Reading for its manufacture. In 1866 he went to Hoboken where he established the Focht Iron Works.

Mr. F. A. Hermany, son of Mr. Charles Hermany, M. Am. Soc. C. E., Chief Engineer and Superintendent of Water-Works of Louisville, Ky., was drowned on June 18, at Troy, N. Y. He was a member of the junior class of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Col. Henry Flad, Past President of the American Society of Civil Engineers, of St. Louis, Mo., died suddenly in Highland Park, Pittsburg, Pa., while out walking on June 20. He was born in Germany 74 years ago, and received his education in the College of Spire, Rhenish Bavaria, after which he took a two years' course in the School of Engineers of the University of Munich, graduating as a civil engineer in 1846. He was employed as an assistant engineer on the government improvements on the River Rhine and on other governmental public works until 1849, when he was elected Captain of a pioneer company in the revolutionary army of Baden. The revolution failed, and he was, with others, sentenced to death, but escaped to the United States. Here he obtained a position as a draftsman on the Western Division of the New York & Erie R. R., and was subsequently advanced to the position of Assistant Engineer on the Buffalo & New York City R. R. Next he became Resident Engineer on the construction of the Ohio & Mississippi R. R. In 1854 he was appointed Resident Engineer on the Mountain Division of the Iron Mountain R. R. In 1861, at the outbreak of the Civil War, he enlisted in the Third Missouri Reserve Regiment, but was soon afterwards made Captain in the Engineer Regiment of the West, and by the end of the war he had attained the rank of Colonel of Engineers. He then settled in St. Louis, Mo., and became Chief Assistant to the late James P. Kirkwood, M. Am. Soc. C. E., the well-known hydraulic engineer. In 1867 Col. Flad was appointed a Water Commissioner of St. Louis, and served in that capacity until June 1, 1875. He was Chief Assistant Engineer under Capt. Jas. P. Eads on the construction of the St. Louis bridge over the Mississippi River from 1867 to 1874. In 1877 he was elected President of the Board of Public Improvements of St. Louis, and held the position for many years. For several years past he has been a member, and one of the most active, of the Mississippi River Commission. Only last week he attended the annual meeting of the Commission in New York city. Mr. Flad was elected a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers on Feb. 15, 1871, and was the President of that Society in 1886. A portrait and biography of Mr. Flad were published in Engineering News of July 3, 1886.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS.—The 30th Annual Convention of this Society will be held in Detroit on July 26-29, with headquarters at the Fellowcraft Club House. Hotel rates have been arranged, varying from $2.50 to $3.50 per day, and arrangements are being made for the usual railway rates. Besides the papers and routine business there will be excursions on the Detroit River, about the city, to the Port Huron tunnel, etc. Mr. George Y. Wisner is the Chairman of the Local Committee, as well as being one of the Directors of the Society. The full program for the Convention can be obtained by addressing Mr. Chas. W. Hunt, Secy. Am. Soc. C. E., West 57th St., New York city.

LOUISIANA ENGINEERING SOCIETY.—A regular meeting of this society was held June 13. The paper of the evening was postponed to give the author an opportunity to complete it. The question of State regulation of the profession of civil engineering was taken up, and after considerable discussion the society refused to either approve or disapprove of the idea. After adjournment a caucus was held, at which it was decided to favor State regulation, and a committee was appointed to prepare an act to this effect, eliminating all mention of the Louisiana Engineering Society, as otherwise it would have a tendency to bring politics into the deliberations of the society. The proposed act will be prepared and presented to the legislature in the near future.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS.—The 15th general meeting of the Institute will be held at Millard Hotel, Omaha, Neb., June 27-30. The following is a preliminary programme: "Inaugural Address," by the President, Dr. A. E. Kennelly, Philadelphia; "The Dielectric Strength of Air," C. P. Steinmetz, Schenectady, N. Y.; "Two-Wire Distributing Systems and Lamps at 220-240 Volts," John W. Howell, Newark, N. J.; "A Capillary Electrometer for Electrical Measurements," Chas. F. Burgess, Madison, Wis.; "Alternating Current Transformers from the Station Manager's Viewpoint," W. F. White, Omaha, Neb.; "The Graphical Treatment of Alternating Currents in Branching Circuits, with Special Reference to the Case of Variable Frequency," Dr. H. T. Eddy, Minneapolis, Minn.; "Some Phases of the Rapid Transit Problem," Albert H. Armstrong, Schenectady, N. Y.; "The Evolution of the Line Signal," Arthur V. Abbott, Chicago; "The Commutated Curve of a Composite-wound Alternator," D. C. Jackson, Madison, Wis.; "Alternate Current Working for Laboratory and Testing Purposes," Harris J. Ryan, Ithaca, N. Y.; "High Voltage Power Transmission," Charles F. Scott, Pittsburg, Pa.; "Preliminary Report of Committee on Standardization," Dr. Francis B. Crocker, Chairman; "Transmission and Distribution of Power for Railway Service," Ernst J. Berg, Schenectady, N. Y.; "The Education of Electrical Apprentices and Journeymen," Arthur A. Hamerschlag, New York city; "Air Gap and Core Distribution—The Magnetic Flux and Its Effect upon Regulation and Efficiency of Dynamo Electric Machinery," W. E. Goldsborough, Lafayette, Ind.; "The Imperial Electric Light Heat and Power Plant of St. Louis," George A. Damon, Chicago; "Some Tests with an Induction Generator," A. F. McKissick, Auburn, Ala.

NORTHWESTERN ELECTRICAL ASSOCIATION.—The magnificent lake steamer "Northwest" arrived at Duluth, Minn., the morning of June 14 with a party of 132, composed of members of the association and their friends. The trip from Chicago occupied four days, and proved a most enjoyable experience. A warm welcome was extended to the visiting electrical people at all of the stopping places, and especially at Duluth, where preparations had been made for the summer convention. After leaving Milwaukee a preliminary meeting was held on the steamer, at which the programme was arranged and various announcements were made by the secretary and others. The morning of June 11 was given up to the consideration of a paper entitled "Incandescent Lamps," by S. Everett Doane, Marlboro, Mass., and the answering of questions. In answer to "What success has been realized in substituting incandescent lamps in place of wire resistance in direct current enclosed are lamps?" several stated that they had obtained good results. The incandescent lamps are placed wherever desirable within a radius of 60 ft. and wires lead to and from the lamp. In this way there is practically no waste of power in the lamp and removal of the heated resistance coils gives a better regulation and more satisfactory working of the lamp. The next paper, "Mechanical Draft," by Mr. Walter B. Snow, was read by Mr. Cross. Mr. Dow, of Midland, Mich., read a paper entitled "Purification of Water," while Mr. A. J. Wurts, of Pittsburg, concluded the boat session with an address on "Lightning Arresters."

At the Duluth meeting a paper by Mr. Wm. S. Horry, "Electric Smelting of Ores," was presented. This was followed by a discussion upon the advisability of grounding the neutral of a three-wire system. Prof. Elisha Gray and Prof. Ichisuke Fujioka, of Tokio, Japan, were introduced and made brief addresses.

The reception accorded the Association at Sault Ste. Marie was most hearty, the time being occupied in speechmaking and visiting the many points of interest. The manufacture of copper wire was witnessed at the Dollar Bay Wire Works, the process of copper smelting at the Calumet and Hecla furnaces, the great crushing mills of the Tamarac Co., and the immense mining plant of the Calumet and Hecla Co. at Calumet, were among the points of interest visited. The entire party then returned to the steamer which made no further stop until Duluth was reached, where, as already stated, the remaining business was transacted and the hospitality of the city enjoyed. At noon Wednesday the Association boarded the train for Minneapolis, where more dining and wining was the order of the day. Coaches were provided, which enabled all to inspect the city and its parks until time to leave for Chicago when the journey was concluded.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

REPORT OF THE FIRE MARSHAL OF CHICAGO FOR THE YEAR 1897.—D. J. Swenie, Fire Marshal. Paper; 8vo.; pp. 156.

The report is for the year ending Dec. 31, 1897, and gives detailed statistics of the force and equipment of the Fire Department, with details of the fires and fire losses. Of the 5,326 fires, 802 were due to ill use of gas and gasoline, and 115 to electric wires and lights. Most of the latter were caused by the grounding of high-tension conductors, and only one of these fires was serious. The expenditures of the department were $1,532,781, or 88 cts. per capita.

TRADE PUBLICATIONS.

(The standard sizes for pamphlets and trade catalogues recommended by all the principal engineering societies of the United States are: 3 1-2 x 6 ins.; 6 x 9 ins., and 9 x 12 ins.)

PROTECTION IN FACT.—Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., Pittsburg, Pa. Pamph.; 6⅜ × 3⅝ ins.

This is a small but neatly gotten up pamphlet, illustrating several forms of lightning arresters, each intended to meet special conditions.

FIND ME A MONTH FROM TO-DAY IF YOU CAN.—Folding Paper Box Co., South Bend, Ind.

A small pamphlet calling attention to a filing case, known as the Brownfield-Buyers System, which is intended for filing catalogues, trade sheets or newspaper clippings.

CABLE-TESTING APPARATUS.—Queen & Co., Inc., Philadelphia, Pa. Pamph.; 6¾ × 10 ins.; pp. 40; illustrated.

This is a pamphlet issued to call attention to special apparatus and instruments manufactured by Queen & Co. for testing resistance of conductor, insulation and other properties of electric cables, either submarine or underground.

STORED-STEAM MOTORS.—Kinetic Mfg. Co., 27 William St., New York, and the International Construction Co., Detroit, Mich.

The "Kinetic" motor, on the Dodge system, is intended for street railway service. Under the car is a horizontal boiler, which is charged with water at 200 lbs. pressure and 380° F. temperature from a stationary boiler, and has a small firebox charged with incandescent coal. A pipe condenser is mounted on the roof. The ordinary arrangement of steam cylinders and driving gear is used.

ELECTRIC WELDING OF METALS. — Thomson Electric Welding Co., Lynn, Mass. Pamph.; 6¾ × 8⅝ ins.; pp. 33; illustrated.

This is a pamphlet describing the various types of Thomson welding machines. These are manufactured under patents, the basic principle of which is to force the pieces of metal to be welded together allowing electric current to flow through the abutting ends. The resistance of the juncture impedes the current, which finally heats the ends to a welding temperature. Several machines are illustrated as well as specimens of work done, and tables of sizes of welders and generators needed are included.

JOURNAL OF THE IRON & STEEL INSTITUTE—NAME INDEX.—Vols. I. to L. (1869-1896). Edited by Bennett H. Brough, Secy. New York. Spon & Chamberlain; 6 × 8½ ins.; cloth; pp. 564.

This book is of the same style of binding as the 50 octavo volumes of the Journal of the Iron and Steel Institute, published during the years 1869 and 1896, inclusive. It gives the names of all who have directly or indirectly contributed to the Proceedings.

The volume contains a brief introductory history; a chronological list of the papers contained in the first 50 volumes; a classified subject list of these papers; and index of authors and a complete index to the authors of all papers, communications, and abstracts published in the 50 volumes.
